Frank L. Laughlin Who Disappeared
From His Carlisle Home, Reported In Indiana.

Frank L. Laughlin.

Frank L. Laughlin, adopted son of Mrs. Thomas Alexander of Carlisle, who disappeared last fall from his home and was later seen in this city, has been located in Indiana. It is reported. On Friday, March 3 The Ledger contained a photograph of the lad with the request that he communicate with his homefolk. The article was seen in The Ledger and his guardian was informed of his whereabouts.

NEW CLOTHING FIRM

Recieves Congratulations From Associates of New York
Merchants' Association
Sends Telegram.

Messrs. Squires, Brady & Company, Maysville's newest clothing firm, on Thursday received the following telegram from Mr. Frank L. Devine, a Maysville boy who is now the secretary of the Merchants' Association of New York City:

"New York, N. Y., March 22.
"Mr. Leon P. Squires, Maysville, Ky:
"I have just heard with pleasure of your business venture in the old town.
If the firm succeeds as well as I wish it to you will set a new record in business in that town. If I or the association can at any time be of help to you, just let me know.

"Secretary Merchants' Association."

GEN. BELL CONFIRMS REVOLT OF HERRERA

GENERAL WILL RESIST UNCLE SAM'S ARMY BUT SAYS HE WILL NOT JOIN VILLA.

Funston Hesitates Between Two Fires
—Carranza Officials At Juarez Deny Telegram's Truth.

San Antonio, Texas, March 24.—General Bell at El Paso, sent to General Funston yesterday a message saying that his (Bell's) report of Wednesday that General Herrera had revolted, has been confirmed. General Funston advised the War Department.

El Paso, Texas, March 24.—General
Luis Herrera has revolted from General Carranza and has declared that he will resist with all his power the entry of American troops into Mexico,
but is still opposed to Francisco Villa, according to reports from sources believed reliable.

The news of Herrera's defection was considered sufficiently authentic for Brigadier General George Bell, Jr., to telegraph General Funston at San Antonio that he believed it to be true.
General Bell added to his message,
however, the emphatic denial of Herrera's reported revolt issued here yesterday by Mexican Consul Andres Garcia which was supported by a message which was said to have been received from General Herrera himself.

General Herrera has been known as a personal enemy of Villa. His present position is said to be that the de-facto government has betrayed Mexican interests in permitting the soldiers of the United States to enter Mexican territory and that this betrayal outweighed whatever offenses Villa has committed.

Washington, March 24.—Tension in administration quarters over the Mexican situation relaxed yesterday in the absence of official confirmation of the report that 2,000 Carranza troops at Chihuahua under Luis Herrera had joined Villa. Conflicting unofficial advices from the border, however, caused the State Department to telegraph American consuls at Chihuahua and Durango for immediate reports as to the situation in the Torreon region where Herrera was last reported. Slow wire communication south of the border may delay the replies.

Officials were perplexed by dispatches from the border saying General Bell had notified General Funston that the report of Herrera's revolt was confirmed. When the War Department closed for the night at 11 o'clock Secretary Baker stated that General Funston had not advised the department of General Bell's report, and that all information reaching him indicated that Herrera was loyal to Carranza. Major General Scott, chief of staff, declared emphatically he did not believe the report.

Some officials, however, were reported to believe that Herrera had deserted Carranza, though they doubted that he had joined Villa.

Andres Garcia Reports Carranza's
Troops Have Hunted Bandit's Forces.

El Paso, Texas, March 24.—Andres Garcia, Mexican consul here, made public a telegram which he said he had received from General Gavira, announcing that the Carranza forces had defeated Villa at Santo Gertrudes, near Namiquipa.

According to the announcement, Villa, after leaving several dead and wounded on the field, abandoned 100 horses and fled to El Oso.

weeks' illness of appendicitis.

BISHOP ANDERSON NEXT TUES- DAY NIGHT.

Next Tuesday night is the time for the visit and lecture-sermon of Bishop W. E. Anderson at the Third Street M.
E. church. Judging from the interest being taken and the numerous inquiries concerning the bishop, there will be an immense crowd to hear him.
His subject, "America's Primacy in the Sisterhood of Nations," is a very timely one. Those who have heard the bishop say that he is one of the greatest speakers of the Methodist church.
As announced before, there will be no admission charged. Everybody is invited and will be welcome. A free will offering will be taken to defray accidental expenses. At the close of the lecture the Epworth Admit Bible Class composed of the young ladies of the church, will give a reception for the bishop in the Sunday school room.

NEW USE FOR THE AUTO.

Things do move. It has not been many years ago that when workmen had a job to do they walked to it.
Then a change came—they hooked up the old livery stable plug to a wagon and drove to it. Now they clamor into an automobile and are whisked to it. Friday morning Leonard & Lafley sent their thimble to Tollesboro in an auto to put a roof on the house of Mr. J. F. Hartman. But this is the age of hurry. The next fellow will go in a flying machine.

BODY RECOVERED.

Relatives of Captain William Stapleton, who was drowned in the Mississippi river flood several weeks ago while doing rescue work, received a telegram Thursday stating that his body had been recovered several miles below Memphis and that it had been interred in the cemetery of that city.
Captain Stapleton was one of the best known and most popular officers on the upper Ohio for a number of years.

THE HOME OF QUALITY CLOTHES

YOUNG MAN

Now Is the Time to Buy the New Spring Suit!

You read the newspapers, don't you?
Then you know, without our telling you, that woolen fabrics are getting higher, dyes are getting scarcer and everything else that enters into the makeup of clothing, even to the linen thread with which the buttons are sewed on, is advancing in price.

The suits we offer now were contracted for when conditions were less stringent. A good suit bought here now need cost you no more than the same suit would have cost you a year ago.

As far as style goes, our suits are better than ever—and we are showing a greater variety than in any previous season.

Come in and see what $10 to $30 will buy.

D. HECHINGER & CO.

THE SHIRT SILKS

It is needless to tell style informed women the silk waist leading all in popularity this spring is the shirt model. It is made with the soft high-low collars that can be worn either way. For this popular garment we have made ample provision in the Silk Sale as follows:

AT 50 CENTS—White tub silk and pongee.

AT 75 CENTS—Yard wide wash silk. Pongee.

AT $1.00—Italian tub silk in white or flesh. Also white tub silk with several color combinations in stripes.

AT $1.19—Creme de Chine in white, black and a full line of colors. 40 inches wide.

AT $1.50—White tub silk, 42 inches wide.

The New Suits

More suits than you will probably have time or inclination to try on—dozens and dozens. They are wonder values in style and quality. Although our stock is unusually large we advise early selection so you will avoid the rush in the workroom that is inevitable later in the season.

A COUNTY'S HEALTH.

A few years ago the death rate in New Hanover county, North Carolina, was twenty-nine per thousand. That was twice as high as the average for the entire country. The people of New Hanover county decided that they would stop dying off so fast. They employed a competent health officer and co-operated with him. After five years, they reduced the death rate from twenty-nine to sixteen.

The saving of child life was especially impressive. They reduced the general death rate of children under 5 years to about one-third of the old rate. Instead of 411 deaths from infantile diarrhoea, there were eighty. Instead of 100 deaths from typhoid, there were nine.

All this was accomplished by finding out the causes of sickness and death, and getting rid of them. By means of improved sanitation and better personal hygiene the people of New Hanover county made headway against every disease but pellagra. They will probably root that, too, now that its cause is no longer a mystery, but is known to be due to an ill-balanced diet.

The health officials of the county, state and nation deserve praise, but the people themselves deserve just as much. They did their part. One example will show their attitude. In 1914 the United States Public Health Service made a sanitary survey of the rural districts of the county and told every property holder how his premises might be improved. When the health service checked up a year later, they found that 45 per cent of the residents had made the improvements suggested.

Rural communities in general have been reproached for having a higher sickness and mortality rate than cities, when their rate ought naturally to be lower. If every community followed the example of this North Carolina county for a few years, there would be no more ground for reproach.

REV. U. V. W. DARLINGTON

Former Pastor of Second M. E. Church, South, Here, Signally Honored In West Virginia.

The board of trustees of Morris Harvey College elected Rev. U. V. W. Darlington, president of Morris Harvey to succeed Paul H. Willis, who was not an applicant for re-election. This is an announcement which will create surprise in the Western Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in which there is scarcely any other clergyman so well known as Dr. Darlington. The new president has for the last three years devoted his energies to the rebuilding of Morris Harvey College, the official education institution of the conference.

Morris Harvey College is located at Barboursville, the former county seat seven miles east of Huntington on the Guyandotte river.

U. V. W. Darlington was born in Shelby county, Ky., August 3, 1870. He was educated in the common schools of his native county and at Kentucky Wesleyan College, where he was prepared for the ministry.

He was admitted to the Kentucky conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in 1896, and was made pastor of East Maysville and Washington stations. His next station was Millersburg, where he spent one year. The next year he went to Covington, his first important station, where he spent four years, thereafter transferring to the Western Virginia Conference to be pastor of the First church at Parkersburg.

After Parkersburg he went to Huntington to be pastor of Johnson Memorial church.

His numerous friends here extend hearty congratulations on his rapid advancement.

BASEBALL SURE GO IN HUNTINGTON.

Huntington, March 23.—"Baseball is a sure go in Huntington. We will post the first next Sunday at Lexington when the Ohio State League directors meet, and before the end of the week we will close the lease for League Park," announced John De Armond last night. He stated emphatically that all but $200 of the guarantee fund had been raised. This will be secured today, he said.

Treasurer Harry D. Reynolds has started collecting the subscriptions. A large sum had been secured yesterday. To facilitate the work both Messrs. Reynolds and De Armond have requested those knowing themselves to be obligated will kindly mail their checks to B. D. Reynolds, Box 184, Huntington, W. Va.

Kemper Shelton has not yet signed his Huntington contract. It was said that a difference with the Columbus management had arisen. Just what this was was not made public. Local officials declare Shelton is willing to perform here. It is almost certain that the matter will be closed in a few days.

Training will start here on April 15 or before April 20. Several contracts have already been returned with the minutiae of the recruits annexed thereto.

SOME MONEY MAKER

But It Isn't Every Reporter That Has An Iron Cold Head On Him.

(Owensboro Messenger.)

The Louisville Post, printing a review of Irvin Cobb's early newspaper work in Kentucky, says for three years, beginning in 1898, he worked on the Post, doing the city hall politics in the days of the Music Hall convention and the Goebel election; Frankfort correspondence during the Legislature when Goebel was killed; reported the Powers trials, and in all chronicled a remarkable series of events in Kentucky history. After that, says the Post, he "took charge of a paper in Paducah, purposing to become a publisher in his native city."

The Post could have made its story of Cobb more interesting if it had told the circumstances of his leaving his employment. Notwithstanding the cleverness of his work, Cobb wrote the publisher of the Paducah News-Democrat that he could not get more than $18 a week in Louisville, which would not support him and his little family, and offering his services to the News-Democrat a week, saying he could live more economically in his old home. His offer was accepted. After a few months the Post offered him $24 a week to come back. The Paducah publisher "saw the rub" and Cobb stayed. In another few months the Post offered him $28. The Paducah publisher kept him there at $30. He remained for three and a half years and then drifted away to New York, finally getting a job on the Evening Sun at $35 a week and work that was most unattractive—rewriting and boiling down morning paper stories. He was poorer for the first year in New York than he had ever been in Paducah, and almost concluded to shake the dust of Gotham from his feet. But that he got an assignment in which he did brilliant work. Then the World hired him at more than twice the Sun salary and in a short time gave him a contract for three years at $7,500 a year. After that he went to the Saturday Evening Post at $10,000 a year and perquisites. Last year he made more than $40,000.

But the Louisville Post let this wonderful genius go rather than give him more than $18 a week, and in later days bid only $28 for him, allowing the News-Democrat to keep him at $30 That history.

Mrs. Laura Wilson and three children spent Sunday with Mrs. John Cole.

A little child of Mr. John Gifford of near here, died of measles on Saturday evening, March 18.

Our hearts go out in sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Gifford in their bereavement. We know by experience what it is to have a dear little one taken from the home. Our hearts are riven as we see the dear little ones laid to rest beneath the sod. Yet in the hours of gloom when the dark clouds hang heavily over us, there shines a light ahead that comes from the Glory Land to cheer our bleeding hearts and causes us to look upward to Him who said "Suffer little children to come unto Me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Weep not, dear father and mother, as those that have no hope, for the dear little one can come back to you. But in trusting in our dear Savior you all can meet your dear little one again some sweet day. A FRIEND.

50,000 MORE MEN

Needed In Mexico Declares Senator Sherman of Illinois In Resolution.

Washington, March 23.—Senator Sherman of Illinois, yesterday introduced a joint resolution that will have the effect of calling the attention of the country to the fact that many public men believe the mere handful of American soldiers now in Mexican territory will not be able to accomplish the task they have set out to do.

The resolution follows:

"That the President be and is hereby authorized and directed immediately to call for volunteers, and to enlist in the service of the United States a force of 50,000, giving preference to the organized militia of the several states, the term of service to continue until peace is restored and civil government sufficient to protect life and property is established, and definitely maintained in Mexico; and,

"Be It Further Resolved, That the use of such armed force is to be limited strictly to operating within the territorial limits of Mexico as an auxiliary to the de facto government of Carranza, if it be so permitted; otherwise that such forces be used in the capture of Villa and his band, who lately committed outrages at Columbus, N. M., and to maintain order in the northern provinces of Mexico and safeguard and protect the Mexican borders of the United States; and,

"Be It Further Resolved, That after the foregoing purposes have been accomplished the President shall withdraw all the military and naval forces of the United States from Mexican territory and Mexican waters."

EAST NASHVILLE VICTIM OF $1,500,000 BLAZE.

Nashville, Tenn., March 23.—One of the most destructive fires that ever visited this section of Tennessee started in an East Nashville carpenter shop yesterday.

Fanned by a high wind the flames leaped from building to building and it seemed no time before ten city blocks had been devoured. The firemen fought down the fire throughout the afternoon and night, when the fury of the blaze was spent and the official announcement made that it was under control, but that thirty-five city blocks had been razed.

More than 2,000 persons are homeless and several are seriously hurt. As far as can be learned there are no fatalities.

The damage is estimated at $1,500,000. Charity organizations were taxed to their limit in taking care of the homeless and many people threw open their residences to those who lost their possessions.

A thorough investigation already is under way as to the origin of the fire.

WONDERFUL TALE OF AN ACTRESS

Struggled with Sickness and Discouragement; How Relieved.

Dayville, Ky., March 23.--"I shall be glad to have every woman know what I know now, after using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Although I am only 24 years old, I have suffered for the past eight years. I hated the doctors, for a doctor told me to give up the stage where I was playing with my husband. I had bearing down pains, my health failed me, and I could not work on the stage, and wasn't able to tend my baby or even get around myself. I was always downhearted and discontented with the world, and only lived for the sake of my little girl. The doctor said to move to some quiet little town away from the noisy city, and I might be able to live and feel well, so I went to Dayville in November. At that time I was so sick I could not walk around, and my husband kept house and I stayed in bed. One day in January I read your advertisement in a newspaper, and I sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and started taking it. Within two weeks time I was a different woman, could get around, and felt so good that it was a pleasure to do my household work. I felt contented and happy, and now am the picture of health, and am tempted to return to the stage. We appreciate my health as the most precious thing on earth."--Mrs. H. L. The twelve leading Detroit automobile companies are at present engaged in enlarging their plants. The total amount of this increase is given at $5,000,000 cost, 850,000 square feet of floor space, offering employment to 5,000 additional men.

C. & O. SHOPMEN

At Huntington Get $50,000 Annual Raise in Their Wages.

An adjustment of the wage scale of various C. & O. shop employees, which went into effect March 1, means that approximately $50,000 more will be paid to Huntington shop men than under the old schedule.

The total increase on the system will be close to $125,000 a year. Under the old schedule at the present nine hour day time, labor was paid $140,000 per month there. The new schedule means a monthly payroll considerably larger.

The adjustment was decided upon at a conference of officials and labor men of all railroads east of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio river, which has just adjourned after a long and stormy session at Washington, D. C.

The following increases were granted:

Mechanics three and one-half cents an hour.

Boiler makers, one and one-half cents an hour.

Pipe fitters, one to three cents an hour.

Helpers and apprentices, one cent an hour.

Car repairers, one and one-half cents an hour.

The total increase to labor in the southeast is $1,500,000, according to the estimate. It is said that the Chesapeake & Ohio's increase to men will be heavier than any other road. One of two roads in the extreme southeast are already paying their men better than the schedule calls for.

The new agreement is for one year. The increase is said to have been one of the largest ever granted by the railroads.

STATEMENT

Issued By Four Great Railway Employees' Organizations, Presenting Their Side of the Eight-Hour Move.

Cleveland, O., March 23, 1916.

Editor Public Ledger: A great deal has been said about the inability of the railroads to grant the eight-hour day to railway train crews and switchmen, and a few facts bearing upon the necessity of a shorter work day are here presented:

The unit of wage payments is now based on the moving of rolling stock 100 miles per ten-hours, or ten miles per hour. The men are now asked for eight hours or twelve and a half miles per hour, 100 miles in eight hours, and time and one-half for overtime after eight hours.

The railroad companies as well as the public at large would be benefited by the change. All trunk lines entering in large terminals have so-called manifest freight, leaving these terminals each night, hauling from 1,000 to 1,200 tons of freight, which is called fast freight service. These trains travel over divisions up to 140 to 240 miles on an average of an eight to eleven hour basis. In many cases the so-called drag or dead freight train leaving the same terminal probably three hours ahead of these manifest or fast freight trains, are passed on the road, and the fast freight goes to destination in eight or nine hours, while the dead freight is often caught by the federal sixteen-hour law and has to tie up for eight hours' rest before getting into division or terminal points.

If one train can be sent over a division of say 140 or 150 miles in eight hours, there is no just reason why the same class engine, with another train, should put in fourteen to sixteen hours over the same course. Take, for instance, crews on dead freight service, or what is commonly called "slop freight." Out of twenty-four hours they are often fourteen hours on the road. They spent one hour after they get in, washing up and looking after the engine, and then are ready to go home to wife and family, tired and sleepy. After eight hours they are given a two-hour call at the end of the rest period to go another fourteen or fifteen hour trip. These men spend one and a half hours with their families, which is not enough time to even get acquainted with them, as they have practically no time at home. Those men know no day or night, have no Sundays--simply a steady grind, until they are worn out and have to lay off; and in many cases this boon is refused. If these men were worked eight hours they would be more competent workers on account of having more rest, would be better citizens on account of having more time to brighten their minds; more time to study the economic questions that are of vital importance to their own and the communities' welfare, and would, therefore, be more intelligent voters. On the same basis the company would be the gainer by always having a fresh man going on duty at working periods, and would be less troubled by men asking for layoffs for the purpose of getting some rest. The public would also be the gainer by getting quicker service on dead or "slop freight."

For example, take a car of bananas, shipped, say, from New Orleans to St. Louis, which goes through in thirty-six or thirty-eight hours, while a car of dead freight would occupy almost three weeks getting the same distance; in other words, dead freight is moving in the United States on an average of about one mile per hour when it should move practically as expeditiously as any other commodity. The statement has been repeatedly made that the men do want an eight hour day, but are simply after an increase in wages. This absurd statement has no basis in fact, as the men do not want the overtime, and the only way to stop the working of the men overtime is to put a penalty on the use of overtime, so that the railroads would move trains more expeditiously and be more saving in their use of the men's overtime work. Pay for overtime to the worker is blood money, as this money is made after the man is worn out, needs sleep and rest, and digs at his very vitals, and makes him old before his time.

Give railway train service men eight hours' work, eight hours' sleep and eight hours to pass with their families and they ask for no overtime and no so-called exorbitant pay.

The manufacturers and shippers are constantly brought face to face with car shortages throughout the United States, which condition is largely brought about by slow transportation of so-called dead freight. If cars loaded with this dead or slow moving freight were handled more rapidly to destination, unloaded and returned to service, the company would earn a greater revenue on each car, which increase alone would offset any additional expense the company would sustain in making the change. Keep the trains moving by giving them the amount of tonnage they can handle over the division and it will be seen that the trip can not be made in eight hours.

There is no good, logical reason why railway and train service men should not be on an eight hour basis. Before the federal sixteen hour law was enforced the companies worked the men twenty or thirty hours, but after this law became effective they found they could get the trains through in fourteen or fifteen hours and they will find this can be just as easily cut to eight hours as it was from thirty to sixteen hours. It needs only the co-operation of the company officials with the men to make an eight hour day on railroads a blessing, and at the same time knock the shackles off of 309,174 railroad men in the United States now calling for relief.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The best proof. Read it:

Mrs. Della Luneford, 328 E. Front St., Maysville, says: "I attribute kidney trouble to a strain. I had sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging-down feeling through my hips. I had dull headaches and dizzy spells and often if I had not caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. I was in that condition for several years, up one week and in bed the next. I finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy. My feet began to swell and my hands were at times the same way. Finally, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mrs. Luneford said: "Doan's Kidney Pills completely and permanently cured me and I am glad to confirm all I said in their praise before."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy--get Doan's Kidney Pills--the same that Mrs. Luneford has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

RIVER NEWS.

The Tacoma is due down from Huntington for Cincinnati.

The J. O. Cole passed down with a good sized raft of timber from the Big Sandy.

The gauge at 7 o'clock stood at even 25 feet, a rise of 1.2 since 6 o'clock Thursday evening.

Business around the wharf was good this morning, there being lots of freight coming and going.

The big Kanawha towboat Robert P. Gilliam passed down Thursday afternoon with a tow of coal for Cincinnati and Louisville.

The Greenwood passed up Friday morning for Pomeroy with a splendid trip, and will be followed by the Courier at 11 o'clock Friday night.

The steamer St. James, owned by Captain John F. Klein of Pittsburgh, was destroyed by fire at New Orleans, burning to the water's edge. The St. James went there from Pittsburgh with a party of Mardi Gras visitors and a huge cargo of freight last month.

Reports from above Friday morning indicate that about twenty-five feet of water was looked for at Huntington, which will make about forty feet on the gauge here. The floods above have done considerable damage. The wharfboat at Rome, O., was sunk during the heavy winds of Wednesday. A heavy loss on freight is reported.

Important Announcement to the Public!

As is now generally known, we have purchased the entire Clothing and Men's Shoe stock, with fixtures and good will of the old, reliable J. Wesley Lee store and propose to continue business at the same stand. It will be our purpose to handle only a high-class line of merchandise and we will greatly appreciate the continued patronage of Mr. Lee's customers and that of as many more friends as will favor us with their trade. So much for a brief introduction.

NOW FOR A MONEY-SAVING STARTER

Doubtless you are familiar, to a certain extent, with the price advance in certain clothing lines, and the prospect is that prices will continue to be increased. However, having purchased Mr. Lee's high-grade stock in bulk at a figure that will permit it, we have, instead of marking goods UP, made substantial price reductions all along the line and we can and do promise intending Men's Clothing or Shoe purchasers values not obtainable elsewhere at this time. Come in; seeing is believing.

FIVE KILLED IN INDIANA STORM.

Indianapolis, March 24.—Five persons are known to have been killed in a tornado which swept across northern Indiana early Wednesday morning. Several were injured severely, while the property loss was heavy.

The line of the tornado, which was from ten to twenty miles wide, was from Morocco southeast, striking Marion, Logansport, Marion and Montpelier, from Montpelier the tornado turned to the northeast and passed over Wells, Adams and Allen counties. Parts of Wabash and Clay counties were touched by the storm before it disappeared in Ohio. Following the tornado a blizzard swept northern and central Indiana.

By treating them with certain gases a Ferncliman has succeeded in keeping eggs fresh for ten months.
